Some had problems with the minimal road signage. Sorry!

The format of the event - 2 loops of 10 controls plus an additional 10 bonus controls with a split at 30 minutes - seemed to keep everyone thinking even when some of the control sites were relatively straight forward. It was planned with enough controls to keep the likes of GG busy for at least 45 minutes. In his absence, Steve did a respectable job of collecting 26 of the 30 controls with only 3 seconds to spare.

I decided to start from the large depression / car park in the centre of the area to make the car park less inhospitable in case of any high winds. The weather on the night however was relatively kind for December.

Thanks to Bob and Steve for collecting some of the controls. The moon stayed behind the clouds but it was still possible to collect the remaining controls without a headlight (my headlight battery was not working properly).
